

Ratification of Antarctic Treaty Snags

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today ratified the Antarctic treaty with Soviet Russia and 10 other nations. The vote was 66-21. The treaty, dedicated to peaceful scientific purposes and provides for a system of international inspection to see that terms are not violated.

It is the first time the Soviets have committed themselves to any international inspection system.

On an earlier test, the treaty received less than two-thirds backing.

The vote was 56-29 against a motion by Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) to defer action on the controversial treaty until next year.

While defeat of the motion itself required only a majority, proponents of the treaty were two votes shy of the two-thirds majority required for ratification.

Fifteen senators did not vote and 15 could swing the decision.

Three and a half hours of debate on ratification itself were scheduled before the final vote.

The test count bore out a statement by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, just ahead of today's session, that the treaty "is in some trouble."

The Texan, Democratic leader and his party's nominee for vice president, said he did not know just how much trouble but "some very strong men are very much against it."

Johnson said President Eisenhower's message Monday, calling for enactment of more than a score of items in the short session of Congress, "fired up some people."

Johnson said Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, is opposed to Eisenhower's plea for ratification.

Voters Pick Many New Lawmakers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Incumbent representatives fared badly in yesterday's Democratic runoff primary election. Six of those in contested races were unseated.

Incumbent losers were Wilson Bathea of Calhoun County, Dewey D. Stiles of Hot Springs County, Carl Purcell of Jefferson County, George W. Staggs of Monroe County, T. E. Tyler of Pulaski County and Dr. H. J. Hall of Van Buren County.

Rep. F. A. Teague of Carroll County won the closest contest. He polled 1,472 votes to 1,418 for James Walters.

Other incumbent winners were Hardy W. Croxton of Benton County, Gean P. Houston of Cleburne County, Raymond L. Mays of Cleveland County, W. H. Tompson of Poinsett County, Clyde Kinslow of Pope County and B. S. Hinkle of Scott County.

Results of contested races by counties:

Benton, position No. 2—Croxton 1,616, J. N. Cavness 1,522. Bradley—Bill Wells 2,359, Charles Lasiter 1,634. Calhoun—R. L. Goodwin 1,214, Belthea 845. Carroll—Teague 1,472, James Walters 1,418. Lumumba Now Offers Aid to UN Troops

BULLETIN

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Rioting broke out in the heart of the sprawling Negro quarter of Leopoldville tonight and steel helmeted Congolese police scaled off the area.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba was seriously injured today by angry Africans in Leopoldville, the Belgian radio special correspondent in Leopoldville said in a direct broadcast tonight.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba who has been threatening a long-well invasion of rebellious Katanga province, offered today to help the United Nations get Belgian soldiers out of the Congo. Most are now concentrated in Katanga.

In a letter to U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, Lumumba said his government is at the disposal of the international organization.

A pacific note was sounded at the same time in Katanga's capital, Elisabethville, by Premier Moïse Tshombe. Tshombe announced he has called Hammarskjöld that he is ready to negotiate with a U. N. envoy for the eventual entry of the U. N. force.

Lumumba's government had threatened a general mobilization for invasion of Katanga unless the U. N. force entered that secessionist province by the weekend.

Information Minister Anicet Kashumira voiced the mobilization threat in an interview and added: "We will enter Katanga alone."

Whatever the weight of this declaration, officers of the U. N. force told newsmen they expect orders to move into Katanga by Saturday. Commanders of the 12,000-man U. N. force were confident a detachment will enter Katanga by Saturday.

"The diplomatic community and U. N. officials awaited the return of Hammarskjöld, probably Thursday, to see how he deals with Lumumba in carrying out the U. N. Security Council's new mandate to replace Belgian soldiers in Katanga with the U. N. force. Tshombe has conditionally assented.

Tshombe, who blocked a scheduled entry of the U. N. force last Saturday with a threat of war, backed down Tuesday and offered conditions for them to enter the territory he has declared independent of Lumumba's central government in Leopoldville.

Tshombe said the U. N. troops could only enter if none came from Communist or Communist-influenced countries and if the U. N. did not intervene in Katanga's internal affairs. Tshombe said his government retained the right to bar anyone from Lumumba's government from the province and that Katanga and U. N. troops would jointly guard all roads into the province.

Two Drown in Canfield Pond

LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A Negro man lost his own life while trying vainly to save a young fishing companion from drowning in a pond at nearby Canfield yesterday.

Authorities identified the victims as Chester Reynolds, 47, of Canfield and Tim Edward Harlmon, 11, Negro, of Dallas, Tex. The boy was visiting at Canfield. Sheriff's officers said a witness told them the boy dropped his pole in the water. He waded in after it and stepped into a deep hole. Reynolds went to his aid and both went under.

The bodies were recovered.

Pilot's Wife Not Surprised at Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Francis Gary Powers was described today as not surprised by Soviet claims that her U2 pilot husband had "pleaded guilty to the essence of the charge" of spying on the Soviet Union.

"She reacted the same as all of us—such a claim was more or less expected," a Virginia attorney said.

Mrs. Powers' reaction was reported by Alex W. Parker of Richmond, one of the attorneys named by the Virginia Bar Assn. to help defend Powers when he goes on trial in Moscow Aug. 17 on espionage charges. Powers' plane was downed over the Soviet Union May 1.

The Soviet news agency Tass Tuesday distributed the text of an indictment quoting the pilot as saying he had in effect pleaded guilty to flying over Soviet territory "with the aim of collecting intelligence information about the Soviet Union."

The State Department in turn noted that Powers, 30, had been in "exclusive control" of Soviet authorities for 101 days. It added "anything he says" should be judged in this light.

Mrs. Powers' travel plans for her trip to Moscow remained indefinite as she awaited Soviet permission for Parker and Frank W. Rogers of Roanoke, another attorney named by the Virginia Bar to help defend the pilot, to attend the trial.

Also awaiting visas here were Mrs. Powers' mother, Mrs. Monteen Brown, and the mother's physician, Dr. James Baugh, both of Milledgeville, Ga. Mrs. Powers' visa has been approved.

The departure time of the pilot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Powers, also was indefinite. They arrived here Monday from their Pound, Va., home on the first leg of their trip to Moscow.

Mrs. Trudie Milam, aged 78, a former resident of Prescott, R. 5, died yesterday at Benton. She is survived by three sons, Lee and Ezra Milam of Prescott, Guthrie Milam of Culver City, Calif., two daughters, Mrs. Audrey Harrell of Bearden and Mrs. Lawrence Carman of Benton; three brothers, J. W. and C. A. Grimes of Prescott and P. A. Grimes of Emmet and a sister, Mrs. L. C. Gattling of Prescott.

Services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at Midway by the Rev. Alfred DeBlack and the Rev. D. M. McCauley.

Election Hard on Various Incumbents

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Sen. Ellis Pagan, a bitter foe of Gov. Orval B. Faubus' anti-integration school closing policies, won nomination to a seventh term in yesterday's Democratic runoff primary.

Pagan, a 50-year-old business man who first entered the Senate in 1935, defeated Letcher L. Langford, a former Little Rock city director who first won political office as a segregationist-backed candidate.

The vote in the bitter contest, with all 86 boxes counted, showed: Pagan 11,107; Langford 10,804. Langford said he would ask for a recount.

Pagan was one of two incumbent senators to survive a runoff. The other winner was Sen. Jerry Screenshot of Hazen, sponsor of the 1958 law Faubus used to close Little Rock high schools against integration. Screenshot defeated J. T. Gunter of Austin in the 19th District. The vote, with 110 of 119 precincts reported, showed: Screenshot 7,405; Gunter 6,797.

Two incumbent senators were defeated — Sen. Jack Clark of Texarkana.

West lost to Cecil McNiel of Rector in the 23rd District and Miller Rep. John O. Moore took Clark's measure in the Eighth District.

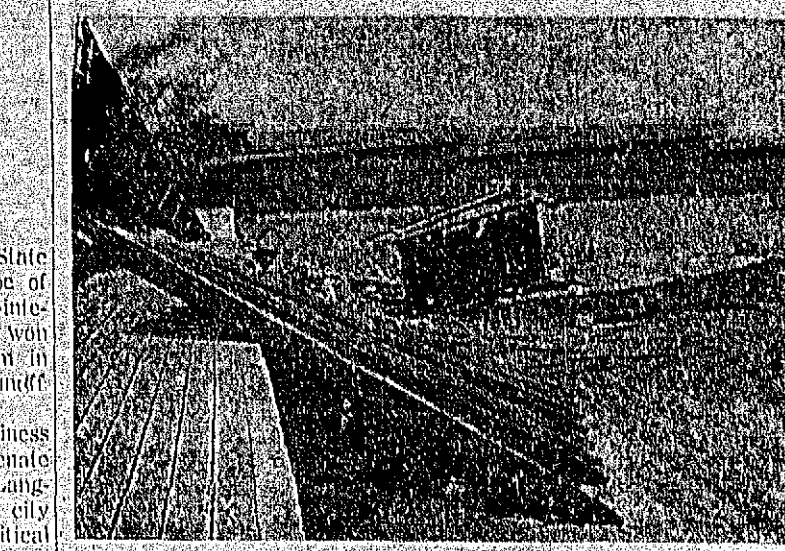

The complete unofficial vote showed: West 1,870; McNiel 4,458. Clark 4,475; Moore 5,120. Both West and Clark are considered close to Faubus, who won a fourth term renomination with 58 per cent of the vote in the first primary July 26.

Both Screenshot and West violated intercounty agreements under which they were not supposed to seek reelection this year. The agreements trade the senate seats among the various counties in the district.

West was seeking a second term, Clark a third.

Screenshot carried three of the four counties in his district. West lost both 23rd district counties, including Greene, his home county. Gunter beat Screenshot in Lonoke County, Gunter's home.

Russia Expels American Air Attache

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today accused the U. S. air attache, Col. Edwin M. Kirtan, of setting up a spy apparatus here. It ordered him to leave the Soviet Union.

His assistant, Capt. Irving T. MacDonald of Provincetown, Mass., was warned on similar charges but was not told to leave the country.

The two men returned just this afternoon from a trip to the Soviet far north. During this trip, the Foreign Ministry charged, they photographed forbidden military factories and equipment. It said Kirtan had been picked up by police in Odessa last winter for doing the same thing.

Kirtan's wife, Lira, returned to Moscow this afternoon from a brief shopping trip to Western Europe.

"I never thought this was what I was coming back for," she said. The Kirtans' home is in Palo Alto, Calif. They had planned to leave the Soviet Union permanently in October after a two-year stay here.

MacDonald still has a year to go on his Moscow tour of duty.

President Raps Demos Over Time Element

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today it is a little bit silly for Democrats to contend it would take many weeks to enact the legislative program he has proposed.

Eisenhower told his first news conference since July 6 that he thinks it is more important to the country for Congress to finish the job and pass legislation than to go home and campaign.

"One cannot simply say, Eisenhower continued, that hollacking is more important than the nation's business."

In a wide-ranging discussion of domestic and foreign issues the President said among other things there are no signs now of any economic recession or depression ahead for the country.

In the international field, the President said he had given no thought to having any personal conference with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev if the latter comes to this country for the United Nations disarmament conference or the U. N. General Assembly session.

Eisenhower said, however, that if he concluded any useful purpose could be served he would not hesitate to meet with the Soviet Premier.

Khrushchev hinted in an interview published in Pravda, the Soviet Communist newspaper, Tuesday that he might visit the U. N.

In the domestic field, Eisenhower said that when he invites congressional members of both parties to sit down with him soon he has no intention of lecturing them on how they should carry out their duties.

He said he would explain the international situation as he sees it and report on some changes he has made in his own program.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders put a hurry-up tag today on major legislation for which they hope to claim credit in the presidential campaign.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, passed the word he wants some committee action this week on a bill to provide medical care for the elderly. A meeting of the Senate Finance Committee, which is considering the measure, was called for today.

Johnson already has on tap for Senate consideration a measure to raise the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour and to add from three to five million workers to those now covered by it.

The road to action on these politically potent proposals was cleared when Johnson, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, rallied party members Tuesday to scuttle an Eisenhower administration civil rights bill that threatened to provoke a time-killing filibuster.

The bill was shelved by a 54-20 vote that followed party lines.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois protested he had no political motives.

New Member Has Praise for Kiwanis

Dr. Lory Hildreth, pastor of First Baptist Church of Texarkana, Texas, was guest speaker at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of Hope Kiwanis club and talked on "A New Member Looks at Kiwanis."

He praised the motto of Kiwanis "We Build" and then singled out several objectives of the international organization, urging the local club and individual members to do its best toward making the objectives realities.

Dr. Hildreth was accompanied to Hope by four other Texarkana Kiwanians, including the president of the Texarkana Club, Clark Burris, E. O. Ball, M. D. Hudson and Virgil Bell.

$70 Taken From Grocery Store

Two burglaries were reported by City Police last night. One involved Hamm Tire and Appliance where officers found the rear door open about 11:30 p. m.

Antrance had been gained through a rear window and the double door broken. So far as could be determined nothing was missing, officers said.

Mrs. C. H. Moxley told officers that someone took about $70 out of a cash drawer at the Moxley Grocery on West Third around 3:30 yesterday.

MacDonald still has a year to go on his Moscow tour of duty.

Both men had hoped to be observers at the trial of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers next week. Kirtan made an expert inspection of the 12 wreckage. He also arranged the ceremony for the return of the body of the pilot of the shot-down RB47. Maj. Wilbur G. Paim.

U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson and his aides immediately went into a huddle with the two officers, both of whom speak fluent Russian.

In mind in offering the measure. But Democrats denigrated it as "political play," calculated to demonstrate their party is split on an issue rated highly important to strategically placed minority voters.

The measure would have provided statutory authority for a presidential commission to supervise the employment of government contractors and would have authorized federal aid for designating school districts.

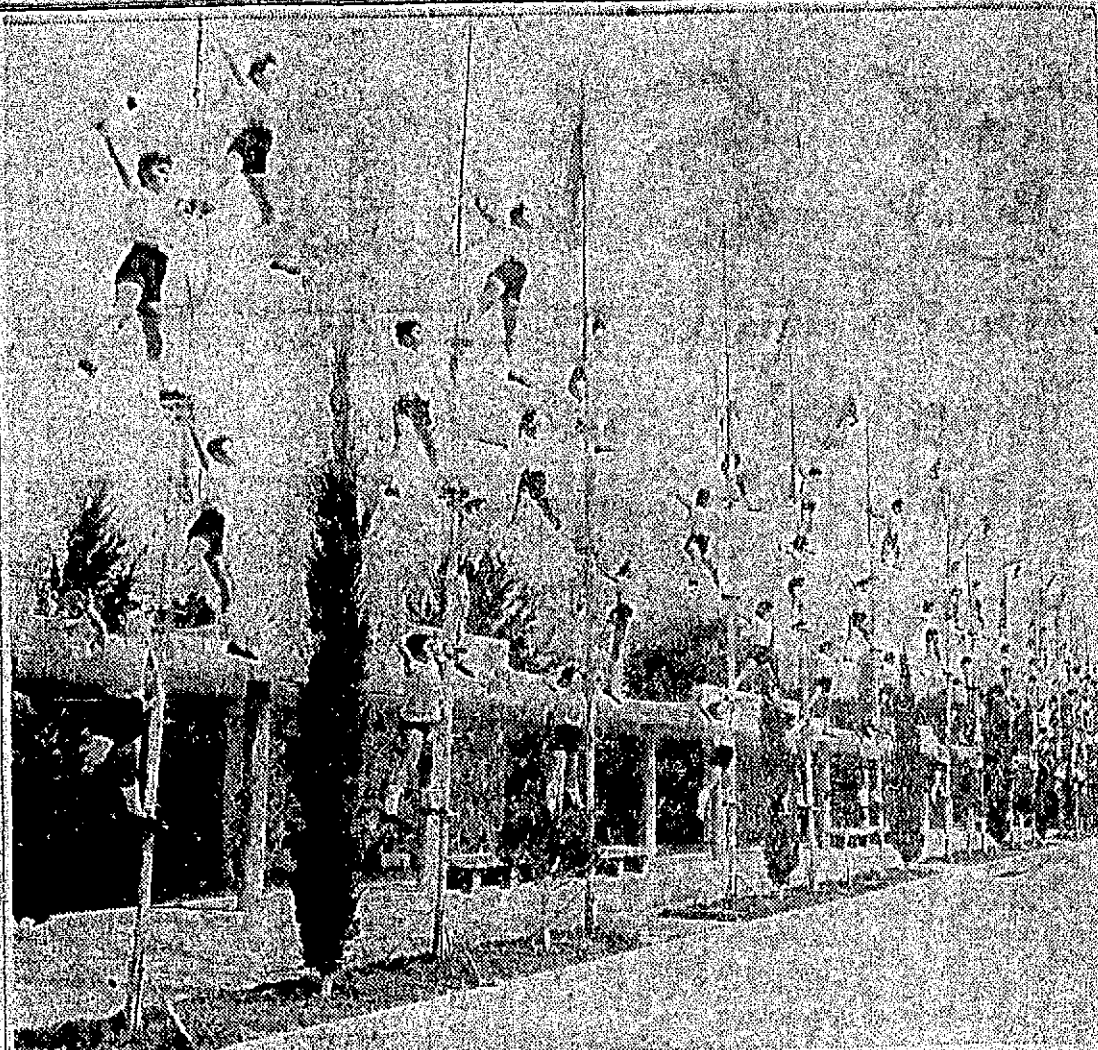

Sens. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) and Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) predicted the Democrats will be sorry for their action in killing the measure.

Scott, one of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's top advisers, said the Democratic platform had "promised everything this side of paradise," but that Senate Democrats had washed out this pledge.

Keating viewed the use of a motion to table (kill)—which cuts off debate—as a part of grand design of the Democrats to use their two-thirds majority to run roughshod over the minority. "Ignore Eisenhower's legislative proposals and enact their own program," he said.

But Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee, called the Republican move "eleventh-hour politics."

The intention of the Republicans today was to use civil rights legislation to block enactment of bills for federal aid to education, housing, medical assistance to the aged and the lifting of the minimum wage, Kennedy said.

Nobody Lost in Jet Explosion

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP) — Explosions racked a B52 jet bomber high above Columbus early today and four crewmen bailed out before the pilot brought it safely down.

Lt. Col. B. G. Boyd, information services officer at Columbus Air Force Base, said the four crewmen received only minor injuries.

Boyd said the Strategic Air Command bomber was flying at 36,000 feet when two unexplained fire explosions rocked it.

Maj. William Fanyo, the pilot, told Boyd he lost control of the craft momentarily and ordered the bailout.

Four of the six crew members dived into the darkness.

Fanyo regained control along with the two other officers remaining aboard and the plane landed.

the late Leo McLaughlin, long-time Hot Springs mayor.

Besides saying he would ask for a recount, Langford said he would contest the election on grounds that many Republicans voted in the primary and also that there were irregularities. He did not explain the latter allegation.

The 56-year-old Fagan was jubilant. When an early total indicated he had won by just two votes, he wisecracked, "It was a landslide."

Fagan, who first entered the Legislature as a representative in 1933, broke with Fairbanks during the 1959 Legislature over a bill which would have empowered the governor to add three members to the six-man Little Rock school board. The board was at that time divided 3-3 between moderates and diehard segregationists, and high schools remained closed against integration.

Fagan made an impassioned personal plea, threatening to resign from the Senate if the bill passed, and succeeded in having it tabled in the Senate after it had passed the House. Fairbanks forces were unable to revive it.

Later, Fagan worked with a group which promoted recall of the three segregationist members of the Little Rock School Board. Rid of the segregationists, the board reopened the high schools under a plan of limited integration. Coincidentally, the man who introduced the so-called board-packing bill in the House, Pulaski Rep. T. B. Tyler, was defeated yesterday in his bid for renomination to a third term.

Harry Carter, athletic director for the Little Rock school district, beat Tyler 11,339 votes to 9,997.

Villagers Sitdown

TOKYO (AP)—Villagers living near the base of Mount Fuji plan a sitdown Wednesday on a military firing range in an effort to block a U.S. Marine artillery practice with live ammunition.

Four hundred Marines went ahead with preparations to begin the firing despite the plans of residents of nearby Oshino village and leaving backers to congregate in the target area at the foot of the scenic mountain. But the U.S. Navy said the firing would not begin until the area is considered safely cleared.

Capital of Alaska Still in Doubt

By WARD SIMS

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A near-record number of votes cast in Tuesday's Alaska primary election were still being counted today and Juneau's future as the state capital was still in doubt.

An emotional campaign over the capital move proposal, initiative No. 1, coupled with generally fair weather, brought out an extremely heavy vote.

Whether it would surpass the record 50,343 votes cast in the 1959 general election, when Alaska voted on whether to join the union as the 49th state, was unknown as the slow, tedious job of collecting ballots from isolated areas continued.

Southeastern Alaska, where Juneau is located, gave the proposal to move the capital a beating. With 70 of 298 precincts counted, there were 2,907 votes for the capital move proposal and 8,854 votes against it.

But of the 70 precincts, 50 were in southeastern Alaska, where the vote on the proposal was 247 yes and 8,000 no.

Sen. B. L. Bartlett and Rep. Ralph J. Rivers, both Democrats, were having smooth sailing in their bids for re-election.

Bartlett, unopposed, had 5,000 votes with 82 precincts reported. Lawrence Brayton, a Fairbanks surveyor, was trailing Lee L. McWhirley, a Palmer dentist, 1,078 to 908 with 51 precincts counted, for the Republican nomination for Bartlett's seat.

With 51 precincts counted, Rivers had an overwhelming lead over his lone opponent for the Democratic nomination, Kenai hotelman David N. Boyer, 4,580 to 602.

In the Republican House race, Fairbanks newspaperman Jack Ryan had a large lead on his two

3 Children Die in Parkin House Fire

PARKIN, Ark. (AP)—Three small children died today in a fire that swept their rural home near here. Their mother was burned critically.

The dead: Darrell William Burleson, 3; Virginia Ann Burleson, 2; and Brenda Lee Burleson, 4 months.

The mother, Mrs. David Burleson, suffered third-degree burns and was taken to Baptist Hospital in Memphis in critical condition.

Mrs. Ocie Mae Johnson, Mrs. Burleson's sister, said the fire started when the dead children's father, stashed kerosene into his wood-burning stove to kindle a breakfast fire.

An explosion followed Mrs. Johnson said, within seconds the house was ablaze.

Mrs. Johnson said she and Burleson escaped through a window and Mrs. Burleson through the back door.

"The children were sleeping in their own bedroom," she said. "We never had a chance to reach them."

3 State Women Representatives

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The 1961 Arkansas House of Representatives will have three women members.

Secretary of State G. C. Hall said today he believes that as many as have ever served at one time.

Mrs. Mattie Hackett won a second term from Lafayette County against former Rep. Pat Robinson in the first Democratic primary.

Dove Toland Mulkey won the Howard County seat over male opposition in the first primary, and Bernice Lichly Kizer was unopposed for one of three Sebastian County positions.

Mrs. Gordon P. Oates of Pulaski County, who with Mrs. Hackett, composed the female representation in the 1959 Legislature, lost for a second term in the first primary.

Mrs. Mulkey, a widow, was a clerk in the House during the service of her late father, Dr. J. V. Toland, who was Howard County representative for many years.

Mrs. Mulkey operates a farm near Nashville. She has a married daughter.

Duplicate Bridge Club Holds Master Point Night

It was Master Point Night at the Duplicate Bridge Club on Monday, August 8, at the Diamond, and four tables of players participated. Mrs. Harry Hawthorne and Mrs. Marie Hendrix teamed up to take the high scoring honors.

The second place couple was that of R. L. Broach and Dr. George Wright. In third place were Mrs. Bill Wray and Mike Kelly, while fourth place was won by Mrs. J. C. Broyles and Mrs. R. T. White.

Miss Thelma Pond and Dr. Robert Power Exchange Vows

Father Martin Busby officiated Saturday morning August 6th at 10 o'clock in Mater Dei Catholic Church in Harrison when Miss Thelma Pond and Dr. Robert Power exchanged wedding vows. Miss Pond is the daughter of Mrs. Henry V. Pond of Fayetteville, formerly of Harrison, and Dr. Power is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Prentice E. Power of Hope. Sparkling candelabra, white gladioli and jade trees decorated the church. Given in marriage by Ralph R. Estes, a family friend, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace over nylon and tulle. The all-over lace gown featured a scalloped neckline trimmed with seed pearls, basque waist, bouffant skirt with tiered effect, and long calla-poin sleeves. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and string stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Jean Anne Mesavage played a program of pre-nuptial music and accompanied Miss Katherine McHugh of the University of Arkansas Music Department, Fayetteville, as she sang "Panis Angelicus," "Ave Maria in Gregorian Chant" and "O Sanctissima" as the bride placed her bouquet at the feet of the Blessed Mother, and she and her husband knelt for the singing prayer.

Mrs. Gloria Sims of Little Rock and Miss Jo Ann McElyea of Springfield, Missouri, the bride's attendants, wore street-length frocks of sky blue brocade designed with short sleeves, low necklines dipping lower in back and princess lines with full skirts. Their hats were of matching blue veiling attached to tailored bows of the brocade, and they carried crescents of white carnations and blue lily of the valley. Little Miss Amy Bower as flower girl was in sky blue silk organza which featured a deep hem and large collar. Her clip-on hat was of the same material, trimmed with blue lily of the valley. She carried a basket of white roses and wore a wristlet of white stephanotis. Master Johnny Estes carried both gold wedding bands on a blue satin pillow.

Dr. James W. Wilson of Little Rock served Dr. Power as best man and Dr. Carl E. Northcutt, also of Little Rock, as groomsmen. Ushers were Lennie Earl Estes and William Myers.

Mrs. Linda McCormick was in charge of the guest book which lay on a white table and featured a silver bell filled with blue and white grapes and blue carnations. Mrs. McCormick's dress was of white brocade and her flowers were tied in blue and white with the blue and white color scheme observed throughout the wedding and reception.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Pond wore a beige lace sheath with matching beige accessories and a single white orchid, accented with blue lily of the valley. She complimented the newlyweds with a reception at Springlake immediately following the ceremony. On one white lace-covered table stood the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with bride and groom, decorated with sky blue roses, flanked by silver candelabra holding clusters of blue and white grapes and blue candles. Mrs. Nan Estes, dressed in sky blue organza with matching sky blue picture hat, served the wedding cake. The second table was centered with a two-tiered silver comport of blue and white grapes and white carnations, flanked by the punch service and silver coffee service with Mrs. Miriam Hopp, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Fay Waddell and Mrs. Eva Lee Crille serving.

The bride is a dental assistant to Dr. A. Wade Smith in Little Rock, having served Dr. Ralph Bower in that capacity here for a number of years. Dr. Power is a graduate of the U. of A. School of Medicine and is now a member of the house staff at the U. of A. Medical Center in Little Rock, serving his internship. The newlyweds spent the weekend in the Ozarks and returned to their respective positions Monday. They are at home at 1920 1/2 Center St. in Little Rock.

Mrs. E. J. Whitman Entertains Tuesday Bridge Club

A local Tuesday Bridge Club met with Mrs. E. J. Whitman on August 8. Yellow summer flowers graced the home where two tables of club members enjoyed the afternoon. High score prize was won by Mrs. R. L. Broach, while Mrs. George Robinson was second high. A dessert plate was served during the refreshment hour.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Don Clark Ruggles of Ft. Worth, Tex., announce the arrival of a 10 lb. son born last week. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hummel of Clarksville are the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ruggles are the paternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Comer Boyett, Jr., of Searcy announce the arrival of a baby boy on August 8. He weighed 7 lbs., 5 ozs. Mr. and Mrs. Comer Boyett of Hope are the paternal grandparents.

Coming and Going

Mrs. Charles Bell and Jan of Texarkana are visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Edwards while Mr. Bell is in National Guard training at Ft. Polk, La.

The Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Fuller, Jr., of Whitewright, Tex., are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fuller. The Rev. Fuller will fill the pulpit for both the morning and evening services at the First Baptist Church, Sunday, August 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Neenie Ellis and daughters, Angela and Priscilla, of Midland, Tex., were overnight guests, Monday, of Dr. and Mrs. Jim McKenzie. Billy McKenzie accompanied the Ellises home for a visit.

Mrs. G. B. Hughes, Mrs. Dorsey McKee, and Mrs. Jim McKenzie attended a Ouachita Presbyterial Board Meeting in Camden, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Williams of Little Rock were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Green.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee Andrews spent the weekend in Clarksdale, Miss., with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gregg.

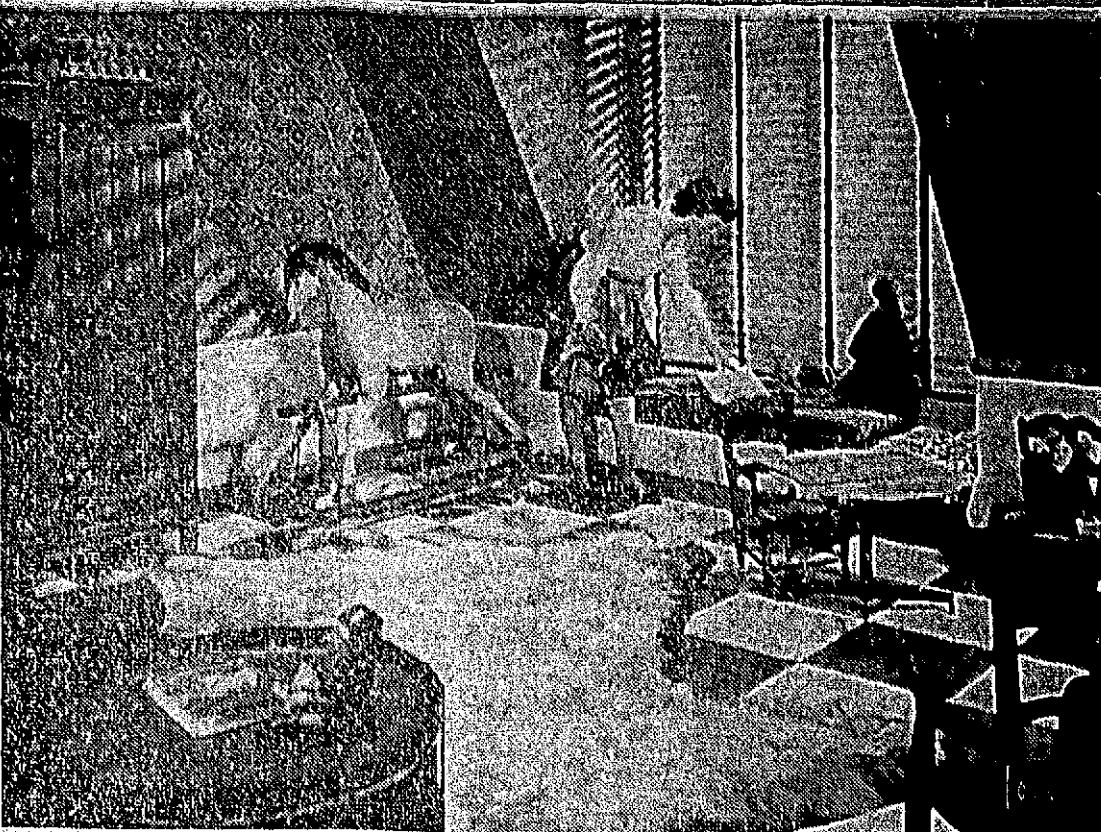

Mrs. W. B. Ruggles has returned from Ft. Worth, Tex., where she has spent the past month with the Don Ruggles family.

Mr. and Mrs. Comer Boyett have gone to Searcy to see the Comer Boyett, Jr.

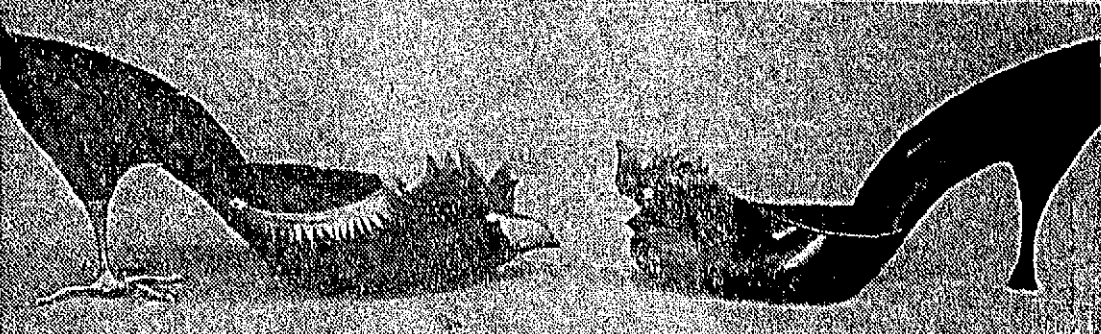

Mr. and Mrs. Don LaFantasie and children, Danny and Donna and Mrs. Phil LaFantasie, left Tuesday morning for Providence, Rhode Island, where they will spend their vacation.

Ensign Russell Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Mitchell, is home after completing officers training at Athens, Ga. After an 18 day leave he will then be stationed in Long Beach, Calif.

Mrs. C. L. Faught and daughter Linda returned home Sunday from Denton, Texas where they visited the past week with her brother, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ward and children, Debbie, Tommy and Kathy.

Blending of traditional and modern furnishings gives this child's room a warmth and charm all its own. Venetian blinds and smart vinyl tile floor combine perfectly with documentary wallpaper and the antique furniture.

DOROTHY DIX

Is Son of a Divorcee Suitable Boy Friend

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am 17. My parents let me go out. My mother tells me I'm old enough and wants me to have fun. My Dad agrees. But my mother doesn't trust me. I'm in on time and always go where I tell her I'm going. I don't go steady because I know she would disapprove. If she can't trust me now, what is it going to be like when I really go steady?

I am very fond of the boy I now go with. I've known him a year and a half and know his family. He knows mine. My mother doesn't care for him. Why, I don't know. He has a slight Southern accent, is clean, doesn't have an immaculate job but at least he works and makes enough money for us to have fun. He's 17, treats me like gold and puts my welfare above his own. He comes from a large family. I'm an only child. Do you think that has something to do with trust?

My mother is prejudiced about divorcees. His mother is a divorcee but has a wonderful family. She has not re-married after 14 years. Can you possibly answer my question about Mom's lack of trust in me? —Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: When a girl becomes an adolescent she often finds that a wall of distrust rises between her mother and herself. A psychologist might say this is because you are on your way to womanhood and your mother fears a rival. A kinder interpretation might be that your mother instinctively distrusts any boy with whom you go for the simple reason that she knows what can happen.

Your boy friend must be a very decent person. The fact that his mother is divorced is no reason for mistrusting him. If the court awarded her the children she must have good character. Call this to your mother's attention.

Dear Helen: My best friend is in love with a boy. Since I knew him, she asked me if I could fix things up. In doing so, we fell in love. He is sick of sneaking out with me. He wants everyone to know I'm his girl. I don't want to lose her friendship. I didn't tell her on purpose. He says he will tell her. Please help me. —Desperate

Dear Desperate: Tell her yourself. It may cost you her friendship but, in a situation such as this, frankness is the best policy — unless you are noble-minded enough to give up the boy.

Dear Helen: I will be 11 in the fall and have a serious problem. Mine is a junior figure with a small butt and waist but large hips. I measure 32" 22 and 35 1/2". I asked my mother if I could buy a panty girdle. She said no. She does not want me to grow up. Finally, she made an agreement with me. You were to decide whether or not I should be allowed to buy one. I need one so desperately. My stomach starts to hurt. I have done everything to lose but nothing works. HELP! —Janice

P.S. — Please be on my side. Dear Janice: Obviously, I would press on your query to the family doctor but since it involves a trim, at issue, I shall answer it. Your mother's longing to keep her little girl a "good catch" while she doesn't realize is that, being an adolescent, you are no longer

Surplus Estimate Could Be Cleaned

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House report today estimated potential congressional action "can cut the government four billion dollars more than President Eisenhower's budget for this year, all but wiping out the President's proposed surplus."

Over the following five years or less, the report by Budget Director Maurice H. Stans added, net federal expenditures could be boosted nearly 20 billion dollars beyond that sought by the Eisenhower administration.

The figures spelled out in some detail Eisenhower's statement in his message to Congress saying congressional programs plus lack of action on money-raising proposals threatens to "do away with the entire four-billion-dollar surplus his January budget message anticipated for the fiscal year started last July 1."

Castro's Banking Chief Dismissed

HAVANA (AP)—Felipe Pazos, former head of the National Bank of Cuba under Prime Minister Fidel Castro, has been dismissed as chief of Cuban economic affairs in Europe, the semi-official newspaper Revolution said today. Revolution said it got the information from the Foreign Ministry. It gave no reason for the dismissal.

Pazos is a conservative highly respected in Latin-American financial circles. He was eased out of the bank job late in 1959, was distributed to newsmen by the bank room for Maj. Ernesto Guevara, left-wing radical. Pazos has been stationed in Madrid, with the rank of ambassador extraordinary.

Powers in Soviet Custody 101 Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department noted today that U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers has been in "exclusive control" of Soviet authorities for 101 days, and declared that "anything he says" should be judged in this light.

A statement on the Powers case was distributed to newsmen by the State Department. Lincoln White some hours after the Soviet news agency, Tass reported from Moscow that Powers had pleaded guilty to the substance of espionage charges against him.

See Upturn Following Labor Day

By SAM BAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen and the money managers are laying plans for the traditional upturn after Labor Day—and this time with fingers crossed. They're betting set for an increase in buying demand—that depends on how consumers feel and also on how business men themselves feel about the outlook for fall.

The Federal Reserve Board will make more bank credit available by Labor Day.

Usually more credit is sought in the fall to finance retail preparations for back-to-school and Christmas business, and to finance the progress of crops from the fields and orchards to the grocery shelves.

Merchants expect big things from the back-to-school business. The advance guard of the war babies is crowding colleges. The first of the big postwar baby crop will be entering high schools. Those born in 1954, when the birth rate was high, will be facing first-grade teachers.

As any parent knows outfitting children grows more expensive at each stage of education. The food business stably predicts steadily increasing consumption and spending for food. And the increased processing and selling should call for more credit.

The auto industry is starting to produce its 1961 models. Steel, rubber, glass and other suppliers hope for more business soon. But the vague for compact cars, using less materials, will cut into demand of these primary industries.

This has kept new orders for steel lower than first hoped. But the industry is now looking for October to be its biggest month, when new car production will be in full swing.

After that it's up to the car buyers.

Consumers have kept their spending in general at a high rate. What the consumer may do this fall, however, worries some. They cite the nervous stock market, the squeeze on business profits, layoffs here and there, and stubborn unemployment totals as offering a threat to continued strong confidence on the part of the buying and borrowing public.

Versatility of Atlas Tested

CANE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An Atlas missile launched today is testing on the start of an 11,000-mile journey to the South African.

The flight was designed to demonstrate the range versatility of the Atlas, America's most potent operational rocket.

Scientists also want to learn how the missile's nose cone can hold on its blazing drive back through the earth's atmosphere. The launching of Atlas 1200, an SR-71 aircraft, ended the 120,000-mile rocket's flight across the sky as it headed toward the southeast. It all went well, the over-weather night would last about 40 minutes.

Chimps in Orbit Right on Ground

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Three chimpanzees have been sent into orbit without leaving the ground. The track flights, designed to test the chimps' reactions to conditions that will be faced by the first man in space, were conducted by the McDonnell Aircraft Corp.

The animals were placed in a simulated space capsule of the type being constructed by McDonnell for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and subjected to pressures and temperatures human space travelers will undergo.

Results of the tests were not disclosed. McDonnell has delivered four space capsules to NASA for the Project Mercury program.

The capsules are intended to carry a man into space and travel at a speed of 17,400 miles an hour. Remains of prehistoric mammals and other giant animals, as well as those of birds and fish have been found in Hempstead county, Arkansas.

Life Around Section of Arkansas

By BOB HARING Associated Press Staff Writer

If folks who live in Cross Roads, Ark., get their mail, it's really a tribute to the U.S. Postoffice Department.

There are — or almost identical ones — six towns by that name in the state.

There's a Crossroad in Grant County, a Crossroad in Cleburne and Cross Roads in Monroe, Madison, Little River and Hempstead counties.

There are two Wilsons, too — the one in Mississippi County and another in Yell County.

Black Oak also is a well-known town name. Washington, Craighead and Poinsett counties each claim one.

And since Craighead and Poinsett counties border each other, there's plenty of room for confusion.

Dixie, Ark., claims both Craighead and Woodruff counties as home — and Little Dixie is just south of the Woodruff-Dixie line.

There's a New Dixie.

There are two Georgetowns, two Austins, two Centers, Hills, two Gibsons, two Midways, two Pattersons, two Plainviews, two Springs, two Morning Stars, two Salons, and two Whitehalls, too.

And Arkansas also has its Greenwell Village, in Miller County, and its Hollywood, in Clark County.

Junius J. Hickerson, who lives near Batesville, has a thorny hobby. He grows cactus (or is it cacti?)

Hickerson has about 1,000 cactus plants, representing some 500 different species. He figures he has given away several thousand plants in the three years he has had his hobby.

The No. 8 hole at the Twin City Golf Club near Rogers holds no terror for 70-year-old Charlie Gault of Rogers.

Last week he shot his third hole-in-one on the 101-yard par-three hole. He finished that nine holes with a 9.

His secret, friends say, is "a nine iron, skill, experience — and a little luck."

"It bit me, it bit me," cried two-year-old Joe Allen Bond of Lowell.

His mother, Mrs. Joseph A. Bond, as mothers will, snatched up the child from the yard where he had been playing and rushed him to a doctor, fearing a snake bite.

Springdale police gave her an escort to speed her to a doctor's office.

The doctor looked over the bite and said it wasn't a snake. It was a bee sting, painful, but not serious.

Monroe Stevens, a Stamps Negro who is the town's garbage and trash collector, was a little too thorough in his cleaning up last week. He dumped a can containing smoldering embers into the mule-drawn wagon he uses for hauling.

Stevens was driving on, unaware of the fire and smoke in the wagon, until an observant citizen spotted it and called firemen.

Firemen quickly quelled the fire, without serious damage to Stevens' wagon or his two mules.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar period, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours there after. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

THE WOLF THAT RODE

By Nelson Nye

© Nelson Nye 1960 Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: Brett Fasken has returned home to find his sister, Josephine Fasken, crowded the small ranchers. He is warned to stay away — to go far away. The small ranchers are killing mad.

CHAPTER III

Schultz rushed from the store with a great wheezing breath like a sob, leaving out of him. All this embarrassed Brett; the quality of the stillness began to rise like walls about him.

The marshal said, "He meant that Fasken."

Able's eyes were like gimlets. "If you got nothing to hide, why don't you say why you're here?"

"You got a wild hair too?"

Stoker said heavily, "We got enough trouble around here now. This whole country's crouched on black powder. Might clear the air if you'd declare yourself."

Shifting his weight, he appeared to reach a decision. "Maybe you'd better just get on your horse and — ah — drop back into whatever you left to come over here."

"You making that an order, Syd?"

"Somebody kills that bone-headed Dutchman you could find yourself without a leg to stand on."

Stoker irritably pushed a hand through the air. "Wouldn't look very good if he should happen all of a sudden to turn up missing."

"I came back to start over."

The storekeeper's jaw dropped. His false teeth clicked together and he uttered a disbelieving short.

"Well," Stoker said, not quite looking at Brett, "there's a heap of other places."

"This is where I belong."

Able's stare went over Brett's brush-ripped clothes and all his testiness appeared to boil up again. The marshal said, "Wait —"

— putting out a hand, his stare dug into Brett. "How much do you figure that half — interest's worth?"

Brett looked at him. "It ain't worth a thing without a man has got it. That place belongs to Jo."

The marshal said to Brett, "That's pretty hard to swallow — even knowin' your sister. The Old Man would have —"

"Sure he did. But I signed it all over to Jo."

"There's been no change. You're down as half owner."

Brett's mouth lightened. "Jo can clear that up."

"Can, maybe, but will she? Over the years," Stoker said with a dusty dry car, "your sister could've done a great plenty if she'd been minded to. I'm not one to demean her. I'll give credit where it's due; she's built 110-bbl O to where no curdy in this country — exceptin' Purecomb, maybe — could get near enough to touch it with a 10 foot pole. Now she's done it is something else again."

Brett said thinly, "You accusin' her of rustin'?"

He saw the storekeeper grimace. "There's other ways to build a spread. Ways that the law can't put its fingers on. Sheriff knows what's going on," Stoker said. "He's keepin' plumb out of it. But that don't make it right. I'm goin' to tell you this: Them that's standin' against her now is just as bull — stubborn as she is. They've got to give her go to. You better see that she knows that."

Brett, listened to the marshal's boots thump down the steps. looked hard at Able.

"Maybe Trone will put you on," Able said — "why don't you?"

Asks Permit to Build Gas Line

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Western Gas Co. of Fayetteville has asked Arkansas Commerce Commission for permission to build $298,770 worth of gas lines to tap the Coal Hills, Altus and Rock Creek fields in Johnson and Franklin counties.

The company said the lines would be tied to existing Arkansas Western transmission lines.

Took Wrong Vehicle

WEST HARTLEPOOL, England (AP)—Leonard L. Broadhurst, 33, was fined 45 pounds ($120) Monday for going on a pub crawl at the wheel of a mobile crane weighing 17½ tons.

The crane driver's saloon, overloaded when the massive vehicle crashed into a bus waiting room.
